WALK 4: WHITE

Description:
This is a demanding but rewarding and adventurous walk. The first half of the walk follows the red path until the creek crossing about half an hour into the walk. Cross the little creek and head straight ahead, while the red path veers to the right. The white path involves a lot more dense scrub and the path is not clearly marked except by the white markers. The walk climbs right down to the gorge bridges, using a ladder at one point and ropes at other points, passing a myriad of gorgeous native plants.

Level:
High fitness

Time:
1 hr one way & 2.5 hrs return

Start point:
Behind the dining hall next to the Ridgeside meeting room. Follow the red path for half an hour until you come to the creek crossing. Then the white path heads straight ahead, while the red path veers to the right.

End point:
There are two options for the end point:
1) The walk can finish at the gorge bridges and you can arrange for a friend to pick you up by car, which is about a five minute drive from the campsite.
2) Or for the truly hardy, the walk can be retraced from the gorge bridges back up to the campsite. This option is extremely demanding as it is climbing the whole time, and needs to be carefully considered.

To be carried with you:
A compact first aid kit and a two-way radio available from the Duty Manager.
